DETAILED ACTION

Restriction

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Group I, claims 1-5 and 44-48 directed to a species of liquid crystal apparatus whereby light modulation is driven by means of a polarizing plate and the LCD is a guest-host type using a negative type liquid crystal as a host material;

Group II, claims 6-19, 73-86, 111-124 and 149-162 directed to a species of liquid crystal apparatus whereby light modulation is driven by means of drive pulse generation unit and a pulse width control unit that controls the transmittance of light made incident on the liquid crystal device;

Group III, claims 20-31, 42, 49-60, 87-98 and 125-136 directed to a species of liquid crystal apparatus whereby light modulation is driven by means of a pulse control unit that changes the transmittance of light incident on the liquid crystal device from a current transmission to a target transmission by applying drive pulses controlled with at least two steps;

Group IV, claims 32-41, 43, 61-72, 99-110 and 137-148 directed to a species of liquid crystal apparatus whereby light modulation is driven by means of a transmitted light intensity detection unit, a control circuit unit to set a target intensity depending upon the environmental temperature of said LCD on the basis of a detecting value from the detection unit and a drive signal generation unit to generate a drive signal used to generate the target intensity.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic in regards to Group I; claim 6 is generic in regards to Group II; claim 20 is generic in regards to Group III and claim 32 is generic in regards to Group IV.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35

U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be completed must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
